Jackson, 7 J Fookes October-Nov. 1917

Jackson, F. J. Foakes

563

November 3rd, 1917

Rev. F. J. Foakes Jackson, D.D.,

Dana Place,

Inglewood, N.J.

:

Many thanks for your letter with the -ssor R. K. Hack as a suitable man for in with us. I have shown your letter and we shall make further inquiries with
In any case we shall go slowly.

With kind regards, I am,

Yours sincerely,

President.

October-Nov. 1917

Oct 30 1917 Dana Place Englewood NJ

455

My dear Sir Robert,

I must ask you to Excuse this paper but I have just thought of a good man for your Latin Professor. R K Hack Instructor & Lecturer at Harvard. He is a very good Scholar, young & energetic & in some ways more likely to be of use to you than Glover who I think has done his best work.

Hack is the son of a New England minister & certainly no Pacifist.
He has had articles in the Atlantic Monthly on scholarly questions

You might enquire about him from Professors Rand or Clifford Moore & of course it would be easy to see him
Your welcome note was delightful

Yours sincerely

F. J. Foakes Jackson

563

November 8th, 1917

Rev. F. J. Foakes Jackson, D.D.,

Dana Place,

Inglewood, N.J.

My dear Dr. Jackson:

Many thanks for your letter with the suggestion of Professor R. K. Hack as a suitable man for the position in Latin with us. I have shown your letter to Principal Hutton and we shall make further inquiries with regard to him. In any case we shall go slowly.

With kind regards, I am,

Yours sincerely,

President.